*An additional charge of approximately $1,000.00 for health insurance may be incurred if a student is not already covered by family or group health coverage. Additional miscellaneous charges/fees may be added to the student account as they are incurred by a student, for example - telephone charges, registration adjustment fees, private voice/music instruction, parking tickets, etc.

Indirect Costs:

In addition to the University's direct costs, each student will incur indirect costs while attending the University. Listed below are the estimated costs for the academic year.

Estimated Indirect Costs for 2009-2010 Academic Year

Books and Supplies	$1,200
Transportation	$ 600
Personal Expenses	$ 900
Total	$2,700

Indirect costs include books, supplies, transportation and personal expenses. These items will not be charged directly to the student account. Although individual expenses for indirect costs vary per student, the financial assistance budget includes the following amounts in determining the financial assistance award.

Calculate your estimated cost:

It is important that you clearly understand how your financial assistance will be credited to your student account so that you can accurately budget the amount you will need to cover your account balance as well as pay your indirect costs such as your books. Confirmed grant and scholarship funds will credit to your account in the amount listed on your Financial Assistance Award. Most loans have guarantee fees which will be deducted prior to disbursement of the loan. This means that the loan proceeds that are credited to your student account may be less than the amount listed on your award. Federal Work Study and the Pepperdine Work Program should also be a consideration. The amount for the work offer cannot be used up front for payment on your student account and will not be subtracted from your account balance as a financial assistance resource. The student will receive earnings after being employed. The student is paid bi-weekly until the total amount is earned.
