EXTERNAL GRANTS

Landscape Study of Chaplaincy and Campus Ministry in the United States (2020-2022)

Submitted/Accepted—Amount $981,129, the Lilly Endowment

I am one of the three co-investigators for the project led by sociologist John Schmalzbauer of the Missouri State University, Department of Religious Studies for a landscape study of campus ministry in the United States. I will conduct ethnographic observations of campus ministries and help design and administer a survey of chaplains and campus ministers. My portion of the grant: $149,694

Planning Grant 2021 *Accepted

The Sustainable Faith Project” (a planning grant to the John Templeton Foundation to investigate how the scientific study of the changing dynamics of religious belief and participation in North America can help inform the practical ministry efforts of Christian organizations) with Steve Porter, Biola University. My portion of the grant: $2,000.

Project on Lived Theology (2021-2023) *Accepted

“Race, Memory, Justice, and Reconciliation in Church-Related Colleges and Universities (2021-2023), is an initiative funded by the Lilly Endowment, which will explore how professors at church-related colleges and universities can develop curricula and pedagogical approaches to teach undergraduate students in the era of hyper-partisanship and heightened rhetoric around race, immigration, and faith. I will participate in the project and present at an upcoming conference for the project in Fall 2021.

Grants Advisor/Consultant (Summer 2019)

Grants consultant for the Lilly Endowment, Inc. planning grant on Landscape Study of Chaplaincy and Campus Ministry in the United States, with John Schmalzbauer and David Sikkink. New York City, Park Central Hotel. August 13, 2019.

The Religious Leadership and Diversity Project Grant (2014-2018) Amount: $491,101

I was one of the co-investigators for The Religious Leadership and Diversity Project supported by the Lilly Endowment and led by Dr. Korie Edwards of Ohio State University (PI) that sought to address the challenges that clergy of multiracial congregations face and discover what resources and support systems are needed in order to help faith leaders to more effectively lead multiracial organizations.
