

Instructions for applying to the Pepperdine ISPP program

Please see the information below that details the application process to Pepperdine University's ISPP program. If you have any other specific questions I am more than happy to answer them, please email me.

Second Round Applications

In addition to any materials submitted through DICAS, Pepperdine University requires an application be submitted directly through the University. Please go to the link below and you will find an "APPLY NOW" button that will take you to the application as well as additional information on our program.

LINK

<http://seaver.pepperdine.edu/naturalscience/graduate/nutritional-science-certificate/>

The supplemental materials required for the application are: 1) transcripts, 2) letters of recommendation, 3) verification letter from DPD program and 4) proof that you did not match through DICAS (this can be a screen shot of the notice).

We realize that if you applied to the national match this year you have these supplemental materials through DICAS. If you apply to our program through DICAS we will access these materials and transfer them to your Pepperdine file.

We will be accepting applications until May 1st, with two sets of interviews.

Interviews for those candidates being considered for 2017-18 are tentatively scheduled for two dates. The first is April 22/23 for early admits and May 13th for admission of remaining spots. These will be either in person or via skype. We are accepting up to 10 interns this year.

You will be notified via email if you have received an interview and of your interview time. These notifications will begin April 14th through May 5th based on when your application is received.

Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Sunnie DeLano, MS, RD
Director, Nutritional Science Certificate Program-Individualized
Supervised Practice Pathway (NSCP-ISPP)
Flora Laney Thornton Nutritional Science Program, Pepperdine University
Phone: (310) 506-7064
Email: sunnie.delano@pepperdine.edu