Course Description: A comparative study of politics and society in several countries or regions of East Asia. Examines pan-Asian history and culture and explores the determinants of political and economic liberalization. Satisfies GE Non-Western and POSC Comparative Government requirements. Satisfies requirement for either the INTS Political Studies specialization or the Asian Studies specialization but not both.

Prerequisites: None.

Objectives: This class aims to introduce students to Asian history, languages, and culture and to the major socio-political conflicts in East Asia since 1850. The course should also help explain why some countries in the region have liberalized politically while others remain mired in corrupt dictatorships. Finally, the class should familiarize participants with everyday life and politics in China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Singapore, Indonesia, Korea, and Japan.

Requirements: Successful completion of this course will require attending class regularly, visiting East Asia-related sites during the day-long field trip, participating actively in class discussions (10% of grade), reading the assigned texts, performing creditably on the midterm (25% of grade) and final (35% of grade) examinations, and completing a “U.N. portfolio” (30% of grade; based on the weekly model U.N. simulations; due Thursday, April 16). The midterm will be given in class on Thursday, Feb. 19, and the final will take place on Wednesday, April 29 from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m.

Students with disabilities requiring accommodations to participate in class activities or meet course requirements should contact the Disabilities Services Office (x6500) as soon as possible. Students needing to be absent during a religious holiday should also notify the instructor beforehand.

Academic dishonesty is inexcusable! Examples include writing notes on one=s extremities and consulting said notes during a closed-book exam, forging the professor=s signature, downloading term papers from the Internet, copying a paper from another student, hiring a graduate student to write your term paper for you, and submitting the same term paper for two classes without having previously obtained the permission of both instructors. If you are caught cheating in this class, I will do my best to see that you at least receive an F for the course. The Seaver College Academic Integrity Committee may impose additional sanctions, including suspension from Pepperdine. In short, don=t even think about it!
A student requesting a grade change on substantive grounds (e.g., the number of points given for a particular answer on an exam; substantive grounds do not include errors in adding up the total number of points for an exam) must submit her or his request to me in writing within one week of the date I returned the graded assignment to her or him. My response will be in writing and is subject to review by and carbon-copying to the chair of the Social Science Division.
